MUSIC

Anemo - Slowburn

After exploding onto the American college radio scene with more than 160 stations picking up their music and returning top ten chart positions Anemo are now unleashing their debut album Slowburn (out September 18th) on the unsuspecting British public.

Since its release in America on New York Label City Canyons Records the album has achieved critical acclaim in the underground music movement with Ultimateguitar.com describing it as having "strong lyrics, beautiful melodies, wonderful tuneful vocals". From the rock riffs off Fallout Renegade, to the pop melody of Same Day Chore to the majestic ballad Slowburn there is something in their 12-track debut for all music lovers.

Anemo's strength and originality lies in their ear for melody and musical diversity. When a classically trained pianist (and established producer), a rock guitarist and a front woman who's vocal gymnastics range from crystal-clear to crowd commanding pour their creative resources together the results are always going to be interesting. Creem magazine came closest to pigeonholing them when they described them as "Swirlin' around like a tornado tossed three-way between Eurythmics, Pretenders and Portishead".

Their UK tour of rocking riffs and catchy melodies continues at the following dates:

- Sunday 13 August (stage TBC), Manor Gardens, Exmouth, Devon. (Part of Exmouth Festival)
- Monday 14 August (stage TBC), Three Fat Fish, 1 Mary Arches Street, Exeter, EX4 3AZ, UK
- Wednesday 16 August (10pm) The Hobbit, 134 Bevois Valley Road, Southampton, SO14 0JZ, UK
- Friday 18 August (stage TBC) Jericho Tavern, 56 Walton Street, Oxford, OX2 6AE.
- Tuesday 29th August, (8pm) - The Joogleberry Playhouse, 14 - 17 Manchester Street, Brighton.
- Thursday 7 September (10pm) - Sandinista Cross Belgrave Street, Leeds, LS2 8JP, UK
- Friday 8 September - Talking Heads, 320 Portswood Road, Portswood, Southampton, SO17 2TD
